Groupe Synergos Inc. officially announces launch of The Marketing Guerrillas in association with world renowned marketing expert and author.

Montreal – June 5th, 2013 – Groupe Synergos Inc. announced today the launch of the Marketing Guerrillas, a unique service dedicated to helping clients maximize their marketing return on investment.

The Marketing Guerrillas is in response to the growing complexity of both the internet and local business marketing landscape, and is designed to take a holistic approach to helping clients achieve their business goals as effectively and efficiently as possible.

This is made possible through leveraging available technologies, operations effectiveness know-how, strategic alliances and licensing agreements, and partnerships such as with DotComSecrets, Inc. based in Boise, ID.

DotComSecrets is a world renowned internet tactics and strategy company headed by marketing guru and author Russell Brunson. Brunson has named Patrick Pressoir (Chief Guerrilla of The Marketing Guerrillas) a certified DotComSecrets Independent Marketing Advisor (IMA).

Pressoir has licensed the use of the DotComSecrets logos, images and confidential internet marketing platforms, and world-class resources, to help business owners increase their online and offline business using the latest internet marketing tactics proven to get results.

Pressoir said about the new Marketing Guerrillas business venture, “I’m incredibly honored to be named a DotComSecrets IMA. It completes our portfolio of service offerings for our clients. In addition to our marketing services and approach, we now also offer best-in-breed website development, search engine optimization, and social media services, to our customers, which makes the Marketing Guerrillas a one-of-a-kind full service provider.”
